- V. FAQ
- VI. Q&A

Microsoft PowerPoint – A Brief History

- ✦ PowerPoint was originally developed by Forethought, Inc. in 1987, and bought by Microsoft that same year
- ✦ It was officially released in 1990, after the completion of 3-year ritual to summon Satan Mekratrig to bless the launch of Windows 3.0
- ✦ The ritual featured Microsoft's annual reading of the Novem Porte de Umbrarum Regni
- ✦ Steve Ballmer himself sealed the Pact by running up and down the stage shouting, "LET IT BE SO!!!" whilst dousing himself in gasoline

Microsoft PowerPoint – Did you Know?

- ★ PowerPoint backwards is, “TniopRewop,” which is Ancient Sumerian for “Kitten Rapist”
- ★ PowerPoint’s power level is over 9,000
- ★ The first stable version of PowerPoint was v1.666

Microsoft PowerPoint – Tips and Tricks

- 👁️ Slathering your entire body in thick layer of Oreo cream filling is proof against most Microsoft PowerPoint-based spells. Crisco works too, but makes it harder to grip a wireless presentation remote
- 👁️ It's best to begin each presentation by proclaiming, "I'm the Queen of FRANCE!" This frightens and confuses your audience, and ensures that they stay seated throughout the entire ordeal
- 👁️ PowerPoint cannot be killed by conventional weapons, so it's best to keep it appeased by feeding it gravel...and digital media

Microsoft PowerPoint – Easter Eggs

- ⚡ Pressing CTRL + ALT and Clicking the 'π' symbol in lower left-hand corner of a Mozart's Ghost-themed presentation gives Sandra Bullock the power of Epilepsy! (probably)
- ⚡ Clicking Help > About while holding down QWERTY and chanting, "Vellem autem esse CONDITANEUS a farciminis!" backwards replaces the PowerPoint Logo with a naked picture of Ernest Borgnine
- ⚡ Reaching 666th slide of any presentation causes PowerPoint to kill a kitten (read your Bible, son!)

Microsoft PowerPoint – FAQ

⌘→ Is PowerPoint really and truly the Devil? For reals, yo?
Yes.

⌘→ Why does everyone use PowerPoint?
Because the Devil made them do it!

⌘→ How many clicks does it take to get to the center of a PowerPoint presentation?
Three.

⌘→ Are there any limits to what you can do with PowerPoint?
Present what thou wilt shall be the whole of the PowerPoint!

⌘→ Will PowerPoint get me laid?
Yes, but only if you use the Ernest Borgnine Easter Egg as described in slide 7.

Microsoft PowerPoint – FAQ, continued...

- ⌘→ Will the script for “Big Trouble in Little China II” be written on PowerPoint?
Indeed!
- ⌘→ If I use PowerPoint too often, will I go blind?
No, but do it in private, and be sure to wash your hands afterwards.
- ⌘→ What are some alternatives to PowerPoint?
Get the hell out of here, Edward Tufte!!!
- ⌘→ What does PowerPoint do on and/or to your computer when not in use?
PowerPoint spends most of it’s time flying around different sectors of your hard drive, but sometimes it stabs other applications.

⚡ Under what circumstances should I not use PowerPoint?

You should always use PowerPoint for every presentation, no matter how crazy or against the law it is. Unless you're Sasquatch. If you are Sasquatch the rules are different.

⚡ What were you wearing when you wrote this FAQ?

Well I wasn't wearing pants...

⚡ Will I go to hell after viewing this presentation?

We'll go together, Jimmy. We'll go together.

⚡ How does Pork Circus know so much about PowerPoint?

Through background and through trainin' from an old Chinese master.
